FACULTY OF ANIMATION, ARTS & DESIGN

Advanced Television and Film

Develop your creativity while gaining the specialized skills you need to bring your ideas and vision to life on the screen.

Develop your skills and creativity
ATVF integrates the practical, technical and creative aspects of television and film studies while providing direct, industry-relevant experience. You’ll develop your creativity while gaining the specialized skills you need to bring your ideas and vision to life on the screen. You’ll also acquire an understanding of new technologies and production methods, enabling you to stay current.

Get immersed in the industry
- Learn sophisticated production techniques and explore a variety of digital image capture systems and technologies.
- Gain skills in areas such as directing, screenwriting, cinematography, editing, sound, production design and post-production.
- Build career connections during a four-week job placement.
- Produce dramatic or documentary films.

Professional faculty and facilities
Our instructors and production facilities rank second to none among film schools in Canada. You’ll work in professional surroundings, learn from practicing filmmakers with years of industry experience, and be immersed in the culture of the television and film industry — and, in just one academic year, you can become part of it.

Get ready for a career in advanced television and film.
