York University/Sheridan College Program in Design

Our program’s rigorous design curriculum emphasizes innovation, creativity and strategic thinking.

Convergence of technology and culture
Program highlights include:
• Small studio classes with lots of direct attention from professors.
• Creative focus and the opportunity to explore emerging areas of design practice.
• A rich curriculum focused on typography, print, interaction design, information design and design studies.

Great creative opportunities
The third year includes a professional placement in a design firm that may be located in Toronto (the world’s third-largest design centre), New York, Los Angeles or overseas. Many companies and design studios actively recruit from the York/Sheridan Program in Design, providing a wide range of employment opportunities after graduation.
Career Opportunities
Recognized throughout North America for design education excellence, the York/Sheridan Program in Design produces creative leaders. The story of 21st-century design is being written today — and our graduates are helping to write it.
