The creative industries need skilled professionals who understand both the business and creative side of media. Sheridan’s Creative Industries Management is a specialized eight-month program designed to prepare graduates as managers and entrepreneurs in the arts. With an understanding of management, financing and marketing you’ll be ready for a career in film, television, video games and more.

Create your new future in the business world of creative industries.

Master the business side of the creative industries
The creative industries need skilled professionals who understand both the business and creative side of media. Sheridan’s Creative Industries Management is a specialized eight-month program designed to prepare graduates as managers and entrepreneurs in the arts. With an understanding of management, financing and marketing you’ll be ready for a career in film, television, video games and more.

Who should apply to Creative Industries Management?
If you have an academic or professional background in the arts and want to develop your management, leadership and business skills, Creative Industries Management is the program for you. CIM can also help you start your own business, giving you the knowledge and competitive edge to guide you down the path of entrepreneurship.

Hands-on learning
At Sheridan, we believe the best way to learn is by getting to work and making things happen. In this program, you’ll be introduced to professional workflow processes in film, television, animation and gaming. You’ll learn how to network with creatives and the media. Working with professors, students and industry professionals, you’ll see there’s no shortage of hands-on learning possibilities.

* 2018 Key Performance Indicator (KPI) survey results produced by the Ontario Government, Colleges Ontario and student associations. Percentage shown reflects the average employer satisfaction across all Sheridan programs over the last five years.
Career Opportunities
The creative industries in Canada and worldwide have a shortage of people who have both creative passion and practical business skills. As film, animation and gaming industries continue to grow, more job opportunities are expected to open.

YOU MAY FIND ROLES IN AREAS SUCH AS:

- Advertising and promotional administration for media
- Management Administration for a production company
- Management Administration for game developers
- Project Management for media events and festivals
- Social Media Supervision for film, television and media

Courses
SOME OF THE COURSES YOU CAN EXPECT TO TAKE IN YOUR PROGRAM:

- Budgeting for the Creative Industries
- Entertainment Law and Negotiation
- Entrepreneurship and Career Planning
- Funding Creative Works
- Marketing and Audience Development
- People and Team Management

Note: See website for specific terms and course listings.

Admission Requirements

Program Eligibility
Postsecondary diploma, advanced diploma or degree in any discipline; or equivalent (paid employment full or part-time, extra-curricular activities or community involvement).

This program welcomes applicants from a broad range of backgrounds including, but not limited to: film studies, television/broadcast, liberal arts, fine arts, animation, gaming, theatre, or other area, as long as the applicant has proven experience in creative endeavours.

Selection Process for Applicants
Candidates to the program are selected on the basis of academic achievement and the evaluation of a Letter of Intent, which includes volunteer/work experience that demonstrates their involvement in the creative industries or production.

Postsecondary transcripts, indicating courses completed to-date, must be submitted at the time of application.

Applicants who do not meet the admission requirements for this program will be assessed and advised individually and may be considered for other, related programs.

English Language Proficiency
All applicants whose first language is not English must meet Sheridan’s English proficiency requirements. Refer to the website for full admission requirements.

Visit us!
There’s no better way to get a sense of Sheridan than with a personal visit. Book a tour and see for yourself!

More information
Website: sheridancollege.ca
Facebook: facebook.com/sheridaninstitute
Twitter: @sheridancollege

All information provided is current as of publication and is subject to change. Refer to the website for the most current program information. Sheridan Marketing and Brand Strategy, September 18, 2020.