Improve English language skills for college and university study.

Training for all skill levels

Exclusively for non-native speakers, this program offers five levels of instruction, from Foundations to Advanced levels and ultimately the English for Academic Purposes level. When you complete the program (and pass one General Elective course), you'll receive a General Arts and Science Ontario College Certificate and may apply to other Sheridan programs without further language testing.

Hands-on learning

The ESL program encourages classroom interaction. You'll work on group projects and assignments that require interaction in the community. You'll practice speaking and listening in a computerized language lab, and you'll learn to conduct computer research, note taking and essay writing in English.

English for Academic Purposes

The program's highest level, English for Academic Purposes (EAP), helps to prepare you to function in an English-speaking college or university environment. At the EAP level, you'll take one General Education course of your choice for credit in your post-secondary program along with an introductory computer communications course.
